FACTORY NEW

The Bovie A812-C Hyfrecator Stand provides dependable support for Bovie electro-surgical units, including the DERM 101, DERM 102, A900, A940, A942, A950, and A952. It moves smoothly, holds steady during procedures, and keeps your device exactly where you need it.

The open-frame design creates an organized and efficient workspace with a clear view of your unit and minimal clutter. The layout enables easy movement, quick positioning, and fast access during busy clinical days.

Bovie Medical built the A812-C with long-term durability in mind. The mounting bracket locks your device securely, while the stable base glides across the room without wobble. The compact frame uses space wisely, making it ideal for tight treatment rooms while maintaining a clean, professional environment.
