

Allen Yellofin Elite Stirrup Replacement Gas Spring Strut - New

Stock Photo - Options May Vary

FACTORY NEW

This replacement gas spring strut is designed for Allen Yellofin and PAL Pro stirrups, restoring smooth lift-assist performance for safe lithotomy positioning. The strut delivers reliable articulation and effortless height adjustment, reducing staff strain during patient positioning and enabling quick installation to improve performance immediately.

The SP0071-1 gas spring strut maintains steady stirrup position throughout procedures, providing precise movement and dependable support. It enables staff to adjust the stirrup quickly and easily, saving time in operating rooms while improving control and confidence during patient positioning.

This aftermarket replacement component extends equipment life while reducing costs compared to purchasing new stirrups. It is a practical solution for hospitals and surgery centers seeking to maintain reliable stirrup performance at an affordable price point.
