FACTORY NEW

The Steris-Birkova Alero Armboard Restraint Strap PR-4000 delivers dependable stability and comfort for surgical teams. With a legacy of supporting medical professionals since 1957, Birkova Products continues to advance trusted equipment for operating rooms. The PR-4000 offers consistent performance for modern clinical environments.

The PR-4000 works seamlessly with armboards in a variety of settings. Surgical staff gain smoother workflow transitions and position patients with greater control. The simple design reduces setup time and keeps essential tasks efficient during demanding procedures.

This armboard restraint strap uses a unique one-step system that secures quickly to the board. The upper strap then secures around the patient's arm, creating a stable hold that enhances safety. Double Velcro closures offer strong grip and easy adjustment, while materials clean easily to maintain consistent hygiene standards.
