

MCM Stainless Steel Hose Tree | MCM 110

FACTORY NEW

The MCM 110 is a stainless steel hose tree designed for medical and industrial settings requiring durable, easy-to-maintain equipment. Constructed from high-quality stainless steel, it resists corrosion and simplifies cleaning to maintain hygienic conditions. The unit offers versatile hose management with two different usage configurations.

This hose tree organizes hoses efficiently in hospitals, labs, and other facilities while saving space and reducing clutter. Its design keeps hoses accessible and promotes a cleaner, more organized workspace. The corrosion-resistant surface ensures long-lasting performance even with frequent cleaning.

The MCM 110 supports smooth workflows by preventing hose tangles and damage, enhancing staff safety. Its sturdy build delivers reliable performance in high-demand environments, making it a dependable solution for maintaining order and operational efficiency.
