

SchureMed Maquet Alphamaxx Surgical Table Replacement Pads

FACTORY NEW

SchureMed Maquet Alphamaxx Surgical Table Replacement Pads are engineered padding solutions designed for operating room tables, stretchers, arm boards, and other surgical applications. The pads feature multiple layers of foam construction to maximize pressure-reducing properties and patient comfort during extended surgical procedures.

Developed with over 20 years of pressure management expertise, these pads combine engineered foams and covering materials to provide optimal performance in the surgical environment. The multi-layer design ensures effective body conformation, support, and protection of bony prominences from bottoming out.
