FACTORY NEW

SchureMed Skytron 3600 Surgical Table Pads are designed for pressure management in operating room tables, stretchers, armboards, and other clinical padding applications. With over 20 years of experience in pressure management, SchureMed has engineered these pads using advanced foam technology and covering materials optimized for surgical patient care.

The pads feature multiple layers of foam construction to maximize pressure-reducing properties. This multi-layer design addresses the limitations of single-foam solutions by effectively conforming to the patient's body, providing adequate support, and preventing bony prominences from bottoming out during extended surgical procedures.
